

Wheat Growers Reject Stricter Controls on Crops

Council To Act on Sewage Rate Hike

Proposal Musters 47.8 Per Cent of Vote; Needed 66.7

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wheat growers have voted strongly against stricter controls on their crops, capping the biggest campaign ever waged in the American farmlands with a stinging defeat for the Kennedy administration and its farm policies.

The administration had thrown its prestige and strength behind its program in a battle against farm groups demanding less rather than more government in agriculture.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman had predicted that defeat of the plan would result in "chaotic" wheat market conditions.

Failed To Muster Majority
The extent of the defeat in Tuesday's referendum was measured by the fact that the administration proposal failed to muster a simple majority of the votes. Approval by at least 66.7 per cent of those voting was required for adoption.

Complete returns gave 547,151 for the plan and 596,943 against. The vote in favor was 47.8 per cent of the total—far short of that required. This was the first time in 13 referenda that a wheat control program had been rejected.

A record outpouring of votes—particularly in the non-commercial wheat areas east of the Mississippi—overwhelmed the favorable votes cast in a small portion of the commercial wheat states of the Great Plains and Pacific Northwest.

In only one region—the southeast—did the administration plan get a heavy majority. This region produces relatively little wheat but has become accustomed to rigid controls on its cotton, tobacco and peanut crops.

Vote Lower Than Expected
The national vote turnout among the farmers was lower than expected, but the total of more than 1.1 million was more than double the number voting in any previous wheat referendum.

The plan would have required farmers to reduce 1964 crop plantings 10 per cent from this year. It would have supported 80 per cent of the normal production on allotted acres at $2 a bushel and the remainder at $1.30. Farmers would have gotten payment totaling around $300 million for idled wheat land.

The effect of the referendum is to eliminate all wheat acreage and marketing controls and to reduce price supports—now at $2—to about $1.25. But supporters would be limited to growers making the 10 per cent reduction in plantings.

Girl Spends Three Nights In Doghouse

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 10-year-old girl who left home and spent three nights in a doghouse with a German Shepherd was in the Summit County Children's Home today while the child's family is being investigated.

Victor Anderson, executive director of the County Child Welfare Board, said the girl told of being responsible for upkeep of the house because her mother was gone for long periods. Anderson said the responsibility may have been too much for the youngster.

The mother, who works as a barmaid, had not reported the child missing, the mother is a widow and has four other children.

House Hikes Speed Limit

Would Allow 70 On Ohio Freeways

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Things concerning traffic violation penalties are getting a little complicated under the "12-bad-points-and-out" system.

The House is scheduled to vote today on a bill to permit the registrar of motor vehicles to mete out an automatic suspension to anyone who accumulates 12 or more traffic points in a two-year period.

But, in advance of a House vote on that measure, the Senate was completing legislative action on a bill to put enforcement of the point system bill in the hands of county prosecutors rather than with the attorney general.

The bills actually do not clash. The one coming up today puts suspensions in the hands of the registrar and enforcement in the hands of prosecutors.

It was automobile day in the legislature Tuesday, although no one apparently planned it that way.

A bill passed by the House and sent to the Senate would boost the outside-city freeway speed limit to 70 miles an hour from the present 65 and permit motorists to boost their speed on in-city expressways from 50 to 60. Limits for big trucks would be 55 outside cities and 50 inside.

The House passed unanimously a bill to authorize speeding arrests without a warrant where radar devices are involved. The purpose was to remove a cloud on such arrests created by the Ohio Supreme Court.

The House defeated, 55-67, a bill requiring a year's driving rights suspended for a person refusing to take a chemical test for drunk driving if asked by arresting officers.

The House also passed, 87-42, a bill to rebate about $1 million a year to mass transit systems in gasoline taxes. The bill goes to the Senate.

State Lets Job On Detour Paving

City Asphalt & Paving Co. of Youngstown yesterday submitted the apparent low bid of $8,036 for the job of resurfacing the overpass detour route on Sharp St., W. Pershing St. and S. Ellsworth Ave.

Bids were opened Tuesday in the offices of the State Highway Department at Columbus. The official department estimate for the $10,150.

The resurfacing work is expected to start soon and take about two days.

McCorkhill Loser by 6 In Solicitor Race

Coe Widens Win Margin In Recount

A recount of May 7 primary election returns made Tuesday afternoon by the County Election Board widened the margin by which Solicitor Thomas H. Coe won re-election on the Republican ticket over his lone opponent, Atty. Scott McCorkhill.

The unofficial returns and the official canvass gave the race to Coe with a two-vote margin, but the new tabulation increased his lead to six. The new tabulation of returns from all 23 Salem precincts showed:

Coe	504
McCorkhill	498

Coe picked up two votes in the recount—petitioned by McCorkhill—while the contender had a net loss of two.

The recount launched at 1:30 was completed at 3. The precinct crews' tabulations stood up unchanged in 20 of the 23 instances.

New York Sets Parade for Gordo

NEW YORK (AP) — Astronaut Gordon Cooper gets New York City's biggest welcome today — a ticker tape parade up lower Broadway.

The slim, quiet-spoken space man comes fresh from the cheers of thousands in Washington, the praise of President Kennedy and the thunderous applause of a joint meeting of Congress.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson rides next to Cooper in the traditional parade to City Hall for medal-pinning ceremonies.

The forecast was for fair skies, but no ill wind would have cooled the enthusiasm of New Yorkers eager for a chance to cheer their hero.

About 2,000 guests have been invited by the city to a luncheon honoring the 36-year-old Air Force major, who blasted off to fame last week with his 22-orbit space flight.

Cooper concluded his eight-minute address to the joint meeting of the Senate and House Tuesday with a prayer he composed on his 17th orbit, spinning high over the Indian Ocean, and recited into a tape recorder.

It was a prayer of thanks for "all these startling and wonderful things that You have created," and a prayer for help "that we may shape our lives to be much better Christians" and "that we may show the world that a democracy really can compete and still is able to do things in a big way."

Cooper's first stop was at the White House, where Kennedy pinned on his lapel the Distinguished Service Medal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Noise In Council Comes From Outside

Members of City Council discovered last evening that they are not excluded from the portion of Salem's population being temporarily inconvenienced by the detour which construction of the W. State St. overpass entails.

Council Chamber windows opened on Pershing S. last night and let in an unprecedented amount of racket from traffic on the street below. Trucks roared outside of City Hall, motors backfired, and passing animal cargo sent up noises which brought forced halts in discussion by the city legislators from time to time during the 7:30 to 10 p.m. Council session.

Franklin Local Vote Approved

Textbooks Adopted By County Board

LISBON — The Columbiana County School Board Tuesday evening adopted a resolution, prepared by prosecutor G. William Brokaw, which will be placed on the ballot Nov. 5 permitting a vote by the Southern Local School District on a request by Franklin Local to unite with the Carroll County school system.

A court action to allow only Franklin Local residents to vote on this issue was overruled by Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond S. Buzzard and upheld by the 7th District Court of Appeals.

In other business the board adopted new school textbooks for elementary, junior high and high schools. The books were recommended by study committees composed of teachers, principals and superintendents in the four school districts, Beaver, Fairfield, Waterford, Southern and United.

The board requested that the books be adopted as soon as possible.

County Supt. James L. McBride reported on a meeting to be held Saturday at Scio High School. Sam Hicks of Ohio University will be the speaker. School consolidations will be discussed.

Supt. McBride discussed the national defense education substance which the four county schools received. The substance totals $23,794 plus $7,836 for guidance and testing programs.

He also urged persons planning to take courses at technical schools to ascertain whether the schools are accredited before they pay tuition fees. Several persons have complained that after they paid tuition they found that the schools are not accredited and do not help students get positions. The complaints have been in the medical fields, he said.

Hubert Lawrence, school psychologist, reported on tests he gave the past school term in grades 1 through 10. He reported that the county paid $1,400 for testing of 6,000 students, or about 35 cents per pupil. He said he made 194 personal checks during the year.

Fred Lohman of Salineville, school attendance officer, reported he made 24 home visits, 54 school visits and traveled 954 miles.

A resolution of condolence will be sent to the family of Ralph W. Betts by the county board in the death of Mr. Betts who was the superintendent of East Liverpool schools.

Bills of $218.22 were ordered paid. The board's next meeting will be June 18 at 8:30 p.m.

Measure To Call For 75 Per Cent Of Water Cost

A. A. Parker, chairman of the Salem Utilities Commission, appeared before City Council Tuesday night and strongly advocated that the city sewage rate be increased from 53 to 75 per cent of the city water rates.

Although numerous questions were directed at the commission chairman regarding the need for "such a big jump" in the sewage

Rate Would Mean 27 Cent Increase

Should an ordinance be passed calling for a 75 per cent sewage rate, the amount of the minimum water-sewage bill now $5.51 quarterly would be increased to $6.22 quarterly. The increase would amount to 27 cents per month.

This was stated in a letter by Utilities Commission chairman A. A. Parker in a formal request to City Council's sewer committee that Salem's sewage rate be increased from 53 per cent to 75 per cent.

rate, Council decided to instruct City Solicitor Thomas Coe to prepare for Council's next meeting an ordinance calling for the sewage hike requested by Parker.

Councilman Fred W. Koenreich

asked repeatedly for proof that a sewage rate hike to 75 per cent is necessary.

Sewage Committee Concurs

However, the three members of Council's sewage committee which had met Monday night with the Utilities Commission and others concerning the need of a sewage rate increase here, appeared inclined to agree that the 22 per cent increase might be necessary.

Councilman Ralph K. Zimmerman, chairman of Council's sewage committee, explained that after hearing details of the sewage department operations, income and needs he believed that "we should work with 75 per cent."

Charles Gibbs, also a member of Council's sewage committee, commented: "The decision of the Commission was made after much study. The decision was not made hastily. We've investigated the matter thoroughly."

Councilman Harold Astry, the other member of Council's sewage committee, said: "I agreed to have an ordinance introduced calling for a 75 per cent sewage rate, but I have not yet agreed that the sewage rate should be 75 per cent."

Ohioans Say 'No' In Record Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's wheat farmers, including thousands who never had a chance to speak out on federal controls, turned out in record numbers Tuesday to help reject firmly the U. S. Agriculture Department's proposed controls for 1964.

The proposals were turned down nationally when they won only about 47 per cent of the vote, but Ohioans spoke more emphatically. Complete but unofficial tabulations of the Agriculture, Stabilization and Conservation Service here showed 67,081 voted against controls to 19,639 in favor. Thus the Ohio support was only about 22.6 per cent.

The referendum needed 66.7 per cent favorable votes to pass.

Heavy turnouts in Ohio and elsewhere were attributed to the change in procedure which permitted farmers owning 15 acres or less to register and vote. In the past, these small farmers were excluded.

The change meant that Ohio Ohio had 89,901 farms eligible, instead of the 7,500-8,000 in past referendums. Tuesday's unofficial total vote was 86,720, compared to 5,786 when the 1963 controls

Fire, Police Bill Given 2nd Reading

While the impending sewer rate increase was the principal topic of conversation at Tuesday night's City Council meeting, the legislators also took other action.

Council gave a second reading to an ordinance increasing the salary of police and fire department lieutenants from $452 to $490 per month.

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman Ralph Zimmerman abolishing the positions of water works maintenance general foreman and sewer department maintenance man, and creating the position of utilities foreman with a salary of $500 per month. The foreman will be paid in equal installments semi-monthly: two-thirds from the Water Works Department and one-third from the Sewer Department.

An ordinance was introduced by Councilman Albert Lesch and passed unanimously by Council providing for the issuance of bonds of the city of Salem in anticipation of the collection of special assessments to pay the cost of improving certain streets.

The bonds will be issued in the principal sum of $4,061.23 to pay property owners' share for the cost of improving Columbia St. from S. Broadway to S. Lincoln Ave.; S. Broadway from E. State St. to the south side of Euclid Ave.; E. Second St. between Lincoln Ave. and Jennings Ave.

Zimmerman reported to Council on a meeting held recently with William E. Miller, president of Miller-Holzwarth Co., to try to work out a plan to ease the

District Farmers 'Lower Boom' on Grain Controls

Columbiana and Mahoning County wheat growers voting in a national referendum Tuesday, "lowered the boom" on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's proposed controls on the grain's production.

Only about one of each 10 farmers voting in Columbiana County favored the measures to curb production while in Mahoning County two of each 10 voted affirmatively, placing both districts below the Ohio "yes" vote of 22 per cent.

A total of 1,518 growers cast votes at four polling places in Columbiana County while 1,057 at four spots voted in Mahoning. In Columbiana County 179 voted "yes," 1,311 "no"; in Mahoning 206 voted "yes," 851 "no."

Allies Defy Russia On Nuclear Force

OTTAWA (AP)—The 15 Atlantic allies defied Soviet warnings today and prepared to form an inter-allied nuclear strike force.

The nuclear force was the main business before the foreign and defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at their annual three-day spring meeting opening today in Canada's House of Commons.

The ministers were resolved to make the nuclear move without fuss or fanfare, as if it were a normal military regrouping operation. The object was to get around the opposition of French President Charles de Gaulle to a specifically designated NATO nuclear force, which he views as a way of consolidating U.S. power in Europe. De Gaulle has made plain he wants France to lead the West European allies.

A delicately negotiated arrangement provides that the force will come into being by endorsement of certain decisions by NATO member countries.

These decisions include:
1. Assignment of three U.S. nuclear submarines armed with Polaris missiles to Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, the Supreme Allied Commander in Europe.

2. Allocation of Britain's 180-plane V-bomber force with hydrogen bombs to Lemnitzer.

3. Arrangements for the buildup of a nuclear planning and targeting staff under Lemnitzer.

4. Greater liaison between non-nuclear members of NATO and the U.S. Strategic Air Command at Omaha, Neb.

Health Bill Opposed By Council Here

Salem City Council unanimously passed a resolution Tuesday night expressing opposition to Ohio House Bill 441, and the local councilmen are requesting State Senator Edmund Sargus to oppose the bill.

House Bill 441, already passed by the Ohio House of Representatives and now before the state Senate, would establish new health districts. The bill would abolish Salem's city health department, replacing it with a county-wide department.

Some of the comments made as the bill was discussed in local Council Chambers were these:

Councilman Fred Koenreich, who introduced the resolution opposing the bill: "Salem has a good city board of health. If it has any faults, it's that it doesn't publish all the good work it does."

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer: "Our board of health is operating at present at 100 per cent efficiency."

Councilman Ralph K. Zimmerman: "I'm very happy with our health set up here, although other towns may not be satisfied with theirs."

Council President Ford Joseph Jr.: "I've been in contact with Senator Sargus by phone. He has expressed opposition to the bill and is waiting for our resolution."

Council Advances Plans To Improve Four Streets

Plans for the improvement of Jennings and Ohio avenues and Aetna and Wilson streets were furthered at last night City Council meeting.

Mid-July is set as a target date by which time Council hopes the improvement work will be under way.

Albert Lesch, chairman of Council's streets and alleys committee, received from City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff Jr. preliminary estimates on the cost of the improvements.

Resurfacing, curve reduction and storm drainage of Jennings Ave. is expected to cost $23,500, of which $10,000 is to be paid by the federal government; approximately 55 per cent by the city; and about 45 per cent by the property owners. The city's share of the $13,500 will be some-

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Avoid the Hazards of Pregnancy

Pregnancy is a normal physical condition, but fraught with complications if the mother suffers from conditions such as diabetes, tuberculosis or endocarditis.

Dr. Brandstadt

If a woman with a chronic disease becomes pregnant, it is the pregnancy that complicates the disease, rather than the other way around.

The pregnancy may make the disease worse, and if it causes sufficient impairment of the mother's health, the result may be miscarriage or even death of the mother.

This is not to say that, should such a woman become pregnant, skillful obstetrical care could not bring both her and the baby through safely.

On the other hand, a pregnant woman runs the same risk as any other woman of getting any disease in the course of her pregnancy. Of this type of complication the worst, considering her condition, is German measles. If it occurs in the first few weeks of the pregnancy, it may result in gross deformity of the baby.

FOR THAT REASON a pregnant woman should avoid any contact with a known case of German measles, even if she believes she had the disease as a child.

If the German measles occurs in one of her own children or if she finds she has otherwise been exposed, she should be given gamma globulin at once. This will protect her, but it will not be effective unless it is given within a week after exposure.

There are certain hazards or complications inherent in the pregnancy itself. These are referred to as the toxemias of pregnancy, and it is because they must be recognized and treated at their very onset that a pregnant woman should have a series of check-ups of her urine and blood pressure throughout pregnancy. Warning signals should be reported immediately.

"TOXEMIA" MEANS poison in the blood. The poisons responsible are derived from protein metabolism in the mother and the developing embryo. These metabolic products are always present, but in the woman with toxemia, the power of the liver to neutralize the poisons and of the kidneys to excrete them is impaired.

This may set up a vicious cycle. The more poison, the greater the damage to the kidneys and liver. Therefore, if a woman who has had any previous disease of these organs becomes pregnant, she must be watched closely for signs of toxemia.

If such signs appear, she should stay in bed and take a meatless, eggless diet consisting of bread, milk, vegetables and fruit until the condition is brought under control. As improvement occurs, activity can be gradually increased and dietary restrictions cautiously lifted.

THE MILDST complication of pregnancy is "morning sickness," or the morning vomiting. Fortunately, we now have several drugs that control this vomiting.

Far more serious is the disease known as eclampsia. It is most common in first pregnancies. In the initial stage the urine becomes scanty, there is headache, swelling of the feet and blurred vision.

Prompt action is required to prevent the development of severe and possibly fatal convulsions. Combined treatment with Epsom salts, drugs to reduce the blood pressure, and barbiturates almost always brings about a rapid improvement.

In the few instances in which the condition of the mother worsens in spite of the best medical treatment, labor must be induced prematurely if the mother is to be saved. Fortunately, with improved methods of treatment, this is rarely necessary.

Question of Net Impact

There comes a time in every questioning period after a flight on the fringe of outer space when some of us mutter angrily, "Can't they think of anything sensible to ask these people?"

Matter of fact, they can't. That's why the questions sound sappy. "How did you feel, Major Cooper?" "Were you worried about your husband, Mrs. Cooper?" "How did you feel when your capsule hit the ocean, Major?" "Are you glad your husband's home safe, Mrs. Cooper?"

The questions are inane, but how could they be anything else? The purpose of asking them isn't to get information, only to give the astronauts and their wives a chance to be seen and heard in public.

As far as information is concerned, the questions should be turned around.

MAJOR COOPER and his fellow astronauts should ask us how we felt when they were proving the United States could carry on a successful space program, even though outdistanced by the Soviet Union so far. Well, gentlemen, it's like this:

We are bothered because there is no economic goal. America is first in telephones, television, autos, plumbing, housing, entertainment etc. because of a money-in-wealthier.

We think about this while swallowing the lump when our navy is fishing multi-million-dollar Mercury capsules out of the ocean and while million-dollar rockets are rising at Cape Canaveral.

There is no economic justification for a multi-billion-dollar space program. Even if our astronauts get to the moon and back, the cost of the trip will be a net debit on the balance sheet. No wealth is being created, but billions of dollars are being dissipated.

WE SHARE the joy of success. We are proud of the astronauts. We have been proud of their wives and kids. They look and talk like the kind of people all of us wish we were.

We want to believe there are tens and hundreds of thousands of Americans like these, with know-how, courage, a sense of dedication and charm.

We want to believe the whole project of conquering space is something America can take in its stride because it fits in with the American way of life.

But the fact is it doesn't really fit in. It is of necessity a public project.

Unlike the other great pushes that gave momentum to this country, it cannot be private enterprise, ever. It cannot be economically justified by the wildest stretch of the imagination.

Only in ideological rivalry with the Soviet Union is there justification, and the Soviet Union's toughest problem is justifying its own money-out-of-pocket expenses on something that us putting no food in Russian mouths, no wealth in the Soviet treasury.

THERE ARE THE things we think about in the midst of our pride over the astronauts.

We're on our way to the moon. We're elated about it, proud of the people who are promising to take us there.

But we have no more idea than a rabbit how we're going to pay for it, with nothing coming in but moonbeams.

It Started In 1794

Is it possible that people who dredge up legalistic arguments against efforts to save the Constitution from those who would obey only those parts they agree with never heard of the Whisky Rebellion of 1794?

Is it possible they do not know that George Washington in the first presidential administration came to grips with the same problem John F. Kennedy is struggling with in Alabama in 1963?

The Whisky Rebellion in western Pennsylvania was a direct challenge to the authority of the executive branch of the federal government. Farmers and others who were making whisky and selling it on their own terms took the attitude that the new government established by the Constitution had no right to tell them what to do. The new government wanted them to pay taxes on whisky.

This was the same local hostility that had plagued President Washington when he was leading the war for independence. He was infuriated by it then, and he was infuriated by it in 1794—and now he headed a government that could be broken by local hostility.

He knew the whisky tax was incidental; that the real issue was federal authority. He risked a showdown by calling the militia to put down what looked to him like a rebellion in western Pennsylvania. He won the gamble.

At that moment, the Union became a fact. Up to then, it had been a dream.

THE UNION was challenged again when Abraham Lincoln was chief executive. Again it had to be demonstrated that federal authority was stronger than local opposition to federal authority.

President Kennedy and President Eisenhower have had to demonstrate the same thing in Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas. When chief executives cease to respond to the challenge of would-be insurrectionists anywhere in the Union, the Union will be through.

Play It Safe

The relaxation of tinkering with his car while home on a weekend navy leave brought tragic death to Clayton Opincar of Canfield and a grim word of caution to the many other mechanically-minded boys who enjoy working on their automobiles.

If you are going to crawl beneath the car, like the 23-year-old Canfield sailor did, make doubly sure that the car can't move forward or backward and if the car is up on a jack, don't trust the jack alone to keep the car raised or immobile. One careless moment can prove fatal, as it has many times.

How can you figure to get ahead if your wishbone is where your backbone ought to be?

The Young In Heart

Salem's Senior Citizens club, one of the most active groups of its kind in the state, holds the admiration of the public for their enthusiasm and community dedication, despite the fact that they are "over age" as far as retirement goes.

The organization has grown from a nucleus of 25 to 297 members and when their seventh birthday rolls around in December, we imagine the roster will exceed 300. They may have rocking chairs at home but they don't sit around in them all day long. They are up and doing and especially during the May observance of Senior Citizens Month.

The Exact Word

By Truman Twill

The only reason this is about "balderdash" is because I like that expression better than "horse feathers."

But if I am going to say "balderdash" when I mean "horse feathers," which is a nice-ness, I want to know what "balderdash" means.

It began with another of my frequent readings of "The Golden Bough," by Sir James Frazer. This rewarding book never fails to produce new chunks of comprehension about human superstition.

Sir James says the Teutonic god Balder, son of Odin and Frigg, was supposedly killed by a twig of mistletoe—the "golden bough." Balder was as big a god as there was in olden times. Being killed with a dart made of the golden bough was dying in style in those days—like Achilles having to be pierced in the heel with a spear because otherwise he was invulnerable.

NOTHING ELSE could have killed Balder. As the god of peace, light, eloquence, beauty and wisdom he was secure, except for mistletoe. To understand this, of course, you first must understand that all the superstitions that were still are, somewhere.

You never heard of Balder, perhaps, but as you read what Sir James learned about superstition and magic you know why Balder existed. We still have gods of peace, light, eloquence, beauty and wisdom and bad people still try to destroy them. We call it "character assassination."

But back to "balderdash" . . .

Dictionaries say its origin is unknown; that it means a worthless mixture of liquors, words or trash. But doesn't it have an obvious connection with Balder, a name familiar to every Teuton at one time?

A "dash" is a violent impact. It can refer to a dash of liquid, such as a "dash" of water thrown in the face of one who has fainted. Waves "dash" against the rocky seacoast. There was a sudden "dash" of rain.

Isn't it reasonable to believe "balderdash" meant the things that were done to destroy Balder before an evil god finally learned that this incarnation of virtue was a sucker for a mistletoe dart?

"Balderdash" means today what it apparently meant at the beginning—trash and aimed at all people who amount to anything.

There needs to be a word for this stuff that the air is full of all the time. The word must be suitable for the problem the stuff presents.

It must be suitable, in other words, for disposing of the problem. Like this: Some flap-lip is blowing off, trying to bring about a character assassination. But he doesn't have a mistletoe dart. "Balderdash!" you sniff and walk away.

Here's one citizen who is starting to practice sniffing right now for the "balderdash" that will be flying in the next national election.

Cuba Still Threat to the Security of the U.S.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The greatest danger to the security of the United States today is in Cuba. There is enough Soviet military strength remaining on the island to launch an attack on this country.

David Lawrence
an attack is as

Yet the American people are being led to believe that Soviet military strength in Cuba is negligible and that the missile build-up last year was supposed to be.

This was the reasoning used by government agencies in the autumn of 1962 to minimize the meaning of the Soviet troop movement and of the preliminary steps for the setting up of missile bases.

The most important official document on the Cuban situation has received only passing attention in the last 11 days from the American people. No announcement has been made of what the Kennedy administration intends to do about the facts that have just been disclosed.

There are no signs that the Soviet government is being prodded to get its troops, technicians and military equipment out of Cuba or that any demand is being made to permit on-the-spot inspection in order to find out whether any missiles are still concealed inside the island.

THE LATEST WORD to the American people about the gravity of the Cuban situation comes not from Republican critics trying to make a political issue but from a subcommittee of the committee on armed services of the United States Senate headed by a Democratic chairman, Sen. John Stennis, of Mississippi. All seven members—4 Democrats and 3 Republicans—signed the unanimous report. It tells the unvarnished truth about what has happened and points out a lesson for the future. Here are some extracts from the report, dated May 9, which was written after hearing for many weeks secret testimony given by the intelligence agencies of the government, civilian and military:

"While a reasonably competent job was done in acquiring and collecting intelligence information and data, in retrospect it appears that several substantial errors were made by the intelligence agencies in the evaluation of the information and data which was accumulated. . . .

"Even though the intelligence community believes that all (strategic missiles) have been withdrawn, it is of the greatest urgency to determine whether or not strategic missiles are now concealed in Cuba.

"The criticality of this is illustrated by the fact that, assuming maximum readiness at preselected sites, with all equipment prelocated, the Soviet mobile medium-range — 1,100 miles — missiles could be made operational in a matter of hours. . . .

"Some other sources — primarily refugee and exile groups — estimate that as many as 40,000 Soviets are now in Cuba. Bearing in mind the lack of hard evidence on the question and the substantial underestimation of last fall, we conclude that no one in official United States circles can tell, with any real degree of confidence, how many Russians are now in Cuba and we are of the opinion that the official 17,500 estimate is perhaps a minimum figure. . . .

"The evidence is overwhelming that Castro is supporting, sponsoring, aiding and abetting Communist revolutionary and subversive movements throughout the Western Hemisphere and that such activities present a grave and ominous threat to the peace and security of the Americas. . . .

"It is agreed that ironclad assurance of the complete absence of Soviet strategic missiles in Cuba can come only as a result of thorough, penetrating on-site inspection by reliable observers. . . .

"The importance of making every effort to ascertain the truth with respect to this matter cannot be overemphasized.

"The criticality of it can best be illustrated by the fact that the testimony established that, upon the assumption that all missiles and associated equipment and the necessary personnel were readily available near preselected sites in a state of complete readiness, mobile medium-range missiles could be made operational in a matter of hours.

"Thus, if these missiles and their associated equipment, remain in Cuba, the danger is clear and obvious. . . .

"ASSUMING without deciding that all strategic weapons have been withdrawn, there is the ever-present possibility of the stealthy reintroduction of strategic missiles and other offensive weapons, using the Soviet forces, still in Cuba as camouflage and security for the activity. . . .

"Potentially, Cuba is a base from which the Soviets could interdict our vital air and sea lanes. It can now be used for the air, sea, and electronic surveillance of our military activities in the Southeast United States and the Caribbean.

Cuba's airfields could serve as recovery air bases for planes launched against the United States from the Soviet Union."

This means that the range of certain Soviet military planes has been increased substantially. They need fly only one way in a surprise attack, drop bombs on the United States and land in Cuba. Yet in the last few weeks nothing has been done to insist upon onsite inspection in Cuba by the United Nations or by any other agency.

The Kennedy administration has retreated on this point and only an informed public opinion in the United States and throughout the world can bring about an advance—to verify what has actually happened.

'What Makes You Think I'm Interested?'

Hooray for the Actors' Equity

By VICTOR RIESEL

Let's give the actors a great big hand. Literally.

Why? Because there isn't a cause or a charity drive which has not asked the performers of the land, members of Actors' Equity, to go on stage without pay.

The players, whose union is 50 years old this month, are willing to give benefits but they frankly now want a few of their own in return.

They want no charity. They want the public's support in making the actor's life easier, more secure economically. They can't eat glamour—not even the most glamorous and famous of them.

My good friend Ralph Bellamy, Equity's president since 1952, sat recently with some colleagues, each of them stars of the theater. Someone suggested they jot down on pieces of paper their average earnings from work on stage and, drop the slips, unsigned, into a hat.

The average income of these performers who are famed household names was revealed as—$6,000 a year from live theater.

This isn't much above the union contract's Broadway minimum of $115 a week.

THAT IS, when actors work, of course. And most of Actors' Equity's 13,500 members don't work too often.

There will be more opportunities in a few weeks when some 200 rural theaters brush out the straw—as many as 4,000 of Equity's members will find work on bucolic stages.

However, during the winter the total employment figure is nearer 2,000, including Broadway. But the summer trade pays them far less than $115 a week. Those in rural stock earn as little as $70 weekly, and those in New York's "off-Broadway" get $45 weekly in all seasons.

What do they want of the public and the government? Many things. They want some tax breaks.

Today, for example, if a writer

LITTLE LIZ

The girl who is always safe at home probably never made a hit.

Actors' Equity's average male member is 37 years old; the average actress is 33. More than half of the performers are married. More than half of these have children. Most have two or more.

Most have to live on the Broadway minimum.

These actors deserve a great big hand. Let's give it to them to help them win what they want from the government.

big hand. Let's give it to them to help them win what they want from the government.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Why do you persist in calling people "Toots," "Lamb Chop," "But," "Petunia," "Buster," "Honey Bun" and countless other equally undignified names?

Surely you must be aware that some people who write to you are older than you are and therefore entitled to respect. How do you think a 70-year-old grandmother feels when you refer to her as "Toots"?

Recently my father-in-law wrote to you and didn't sign his name. I recognized his letter because I happened to know of his problem. I admit the situation he described sounded like that of a much younger man, but he is a gentleman 68 years of age. In your reply to him you called him "Buddy Boy."

Your advice is excellent but your sarcasm and smart aleck approach to your correspondents is a bit too much. —T O T H E POINT.

Dear Point: Thank you for

History Today

On this date: In 1786, John Jacob Astor started amassing his fabulous fortune by opening the first music store in the United States.

In 1807, Aaron Burr went on trial for treason.

In 1882, the United States and Korea signed a peace and friendship treaty.

In 1939, Germany and Italy signed a 10-year military pact.

In 1946, the man who ordered the destruction of the Czech village of Lidice during World War II, Karl Frank, was hanged.

Ten years ago: President Eisenhower signed the offshore oil bill giving the states title to offshore lands within their historic boundaries.

Five years ago: Ten persons were killed and three hurt when eight Nike missiles exploded at the Army's launching base at Middletown, N. J.

One year ago: All 45 aboard were killed when a Continental Airlines jetliner crashed near Centerville, Iowa.

your letter. It is not the first letter I have received offering this criticism. The next letter deals with the same subject. I hope you will read it.

Refreshing Reading

Dear Ann: Your column is like a breath of fresh air! I especially enjoy your down-to-earth, unpretentious, old-school attitude toward all who write.

When you pop back with, "Look, Buttercup," or "Listen, Bub," my husband gets such a bang out of it he can't stop laughing. "Buster" and "Doll" set him off, too, but nothing does it like "Buddy Boy!"

Reading your column every day is almost the same as having a personal chat with you. Your wisdom and wit are a priceless combination. Without being unkind, you scale people down to size with just the right phrase. And who of us doesn't need it now and then?

Don't ever lose that refreshing straight-from-the-shoulder humor which your readers dearly love.—N. C. BOOSTER.

Dear Booster: Thanks. "Doll." And please give my regards to Buddy Boy."

Telephone Pest

Dear Ann: I am a retired insurance man who has a good wife, a nice family and I'm strictly a mind-my-own-business type.

Three weeks ago I received a telephone call from a man who said, "You had better stop seeing my wife or you'll be in serious trouble." I asked his name but he wouldn't tell me. I invited him to come to my home and talk to me but he refused.

I'm completely innocent and have nothing to hide. I even offered to go see him but he wouldn't tell me where he lived or where he worked.

Last week he called again with the same message. Yesterday I received a third call — this one was angrier and I suspect he had been drinking. I phoned the telephone company and asked them to trace the call but they said it was impossible.

Please tell me what to do. I am deeply concerned.—NOT GUILTY.

Dear Not Guilty: The man sounds like a crackpot who picked your name out of the phone book. Ask the telephone company to change your number. They will be happy to do so when you explain the circumstances.

Personal Secret

Dear Ann: Ours was a "must marriage." But my husband and I are deeply in love and it has made no difference in our feelings for each other. We had planned to be married in May but when I learned I was pregnant we changed the date to February.

The baby was born seven and a half months after we were married.

Our daughter is now 3 weeks old. What will I tell her when she is old enough to ask questions? I would hate for her to feel she was not wanted or that we had to hurry and marry because she was on the way.

Please tell me how to handle this question when it comes up. It has been on my mind for several months.—WORRIED AND UPSET.

Dear W and U: Every day I get at least one letter from someone who asks this question. I will tell you what I have told others. By the time your daughter is old enough to ask the calendar will be forgotten. That is unless you bring it up, which I hope you will not.

Celebrate your wedding anniversary any time you want to. It's strictly your own business.

Bill To Cut Long Trips For Hearings

By News Correspondent
COLUMBUS — The Ohio Senate passed without dissent Tuesday a bill by Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, giving local courts jurisdiction in appeals from state fire marshal orders.

The bill, passed 31-0, eliminates a requirement that all fire marshal appeals be heard in Franklin County common pleas court (Columbus).

Wetzel has contended that existing law is a burden on property owners who want to protest condemnation orders in counties outside Franklin County.

The bill passed the house 125-1 last month. It now goes to the governor for signing.

Board Sets Parent, Teacher Meetings

The Salem Board of Education has approved two dates for the 1963-64 school year for the dismissal of elementary classes so parent-teacher conferences can be held.

Dates scheduled for sessions between teachers and parents of children in the ungraded system are Nov. 11-12 and April 6-7. Children will be dismissed the afternoon of Nov. 11 and April 6 and all day on Nov. 12 and April 7. The ungraded plan has been in effect in the first three grades at all five elementary schools, although parent-teacher conferences were held only at Buckeye and Prospect Schools during the nearly completed school year.

Next year the ungraded system will be enlarged to include the fourth grades at Reilly, Buckeye, Fourth St., McKinley and Prospect. The administration expects to have a completely ungraded elementary system in two years.

Council

Reasoning Is Cited

When asked why a smaller increase, for example a sewage rate increase to 68 per cent, might not be sufficient, Parker replied that an increase now of less than 75 per cent would probably necessitate another sewage rate hike in a few years.

"Even with 75 per cent," he said, "it will take three years to make up the financial deficiency in the sewage department."

Parker further stated: "The Utilities Commission feels it would be a definite mistake not to go for 75 per cent."

The commission head pointed to the fact that the sewage plant needs major repairs, and that as the plant gets older the cost of its operation increases. Parker added that if an increase smaller than 75 per cent were decided upon, "we'll not be able to accumulate any surplus with which to protect the plant."

Following Parker's remark that the sewage plant needs overhauled "from A to Z," Councilman Koenreich commented: "The plant is only eight years old."

Parker said the sewage rate hike to 75 per cent is needed to help Salem maintain a good credit rating.

Koenreich then remarked: "We've never had too much trouble selling revenue bonds."

Bond Holders' Recommendation

The utilities commission chairman's mention of the city's credit rating had reference to a letter received recently by Parker from Ryan, Sutherland & Co., Toledo underwriters for the city mortgage revenue bonds. The underwriters and the Cleveland Trust Co., holder of the bonds, suggested that the sewage rate hike be increased; and representatives of the companies have come to Salem to talk to the Utilities Commission and city officials about the matter.

The letter from the underwriters told Parker: "Obviously your sewer rates must be revised upward and this action should be taken promptly if a default is to be avoided."

"...We suggest that if your sewer rates are raised to 75 per cent of your water rates (which produced last year gross revenues of $178,278.93) this should increase the gross revenue from your sewer operation approximately $40,000 which should permit you to cover operating expenses, also provide 1.2 times debt service coverage, and leave some margin to take care of probable increases in your operating expenses."

Deficiency Is Reported

Deficiency in the sewage department for 1960 is listed as $16,993.67; for 1961, $9,904; and 1962, $12,406.12.

Councilman Astory declared: "We've known we had a deficiency for three years. If we increase to 68 per cent, we'll make ends meet but we'll have to bolster sewage department finances with other money."

Councilman Jack Rance declared: "I think we have to face the fact that the sewage rate has to be raised." He said that all available money in the Capital Improvements fund could be used on streets alone.

Councilman James Aldom moved that an ordinance be drawn up calling for a 75 per cent sewage rate, but added: "We can fight the thing right along. Perhaps somebody will think it wise to throw in a resolution lowering the rate by the time the ordinance gets three readings."

Meet Again June 4

The ordinance is scheduled to be introduced and get its first reading at Council's next regular session June 4; its second reading on June 18; and its third and final reading on July 2. It is not anticipated that Council will have the ordinance put through as an emergency measure in fewer than three Council sessions.

Councilman Aldom alluded to his part in 1953 in having the sewage rate lowered from 65 per cent to 53 per cent, and he declared that he is not sorry he took that action. In 1953, he recalled, there was a plan for the city to have a second sewage plant in the southeast section of the city on Lisbon Road. Aldom declared that after he and then newly-elected Mayor Dean Cranmer called in an independent engineer for consultation, it was decided that Salem's one sewage plant would be sufficient if repaired and expanded.

"Had the city gone ahead with a second sewage plant, we would now be having the problem of repairing and rebuilding two sewage plants instead of one," Aldom maintained.

what greater than the property owners' share because the city defrays the cost of improvements to the intersections.

Resurfacing and storm drains on Ohio Ave. is estimated at $21,000. The city would pay $10,500 of that amount and the property owners would pay the same amount.

Aetna St. resurfacing is expected to cost $3,200; 50 per cent to be borne by the city and 50 per cent by the property owners. New walks, new curbing and the resurfacing of Wilson StS. are estimated to cost $16,585, a half of which is to be paid for by the city and a half to be paid for by property owners.

Group At Columbiana to Get Permits For Meetings

COLUMBIANA — Representatives of the Columbiana Pilgrim Church visited Council meeting Tuesday to obtain permission to hold open air street meetings. Spokesman for the group was Mrs. Leland Mong who objected to the Sunday jailing of three male members for refusing to disperse upon request of a police officer.

Solicitor Jack Kuhlman informed the group members that they were entirely within their rights to hold meetings and hand out tracts as long as they had written permission from owners of the property where the meetings were being held and did not accost or disturb the townspeople as they did Sunday.

IN OTHER BUSINESS, Robert Ferrall, speaking for the street commission, said that James Barkley had examined the town garage as to the possibility of pointing up the building and also for repairing the steps at Town Hall. No action was taken.

Dale Klingensmith, chairman of the finance committee, recommended purchase of a Dodge four-door sedan for the sum of $1,344.51 from Main St. Motors as the new police cruiser. He said that although the bid was higher by $55.01, it was decided by the committee to recommend purchase of the Dodge because it offered additional horsepower and, according to previous records of operation costs, had proved to be most economical. Kuhlman was instructed to draw up a resolution for the purchase.

ROBERT BOTT, local contractor, representing the board of public affairs, petitioned council for permission to have a 42-acre tract of land located south of town and formerly known as the Hammond estate, surveyed by Burgess and Niple of Columbus at a cost of approximately $1,000.

Council voiced no objection to a survey being made and Mayor Lee Harold stated that a representative from council would meet with the board of public affairs in the near future concerning the project.

Robert Patchen, Civil Defense director, announced that the first advanced first aid class which will begin Thursday will not be repeated until fall.

A shelter manager's course is being considered under a group plan including Columbiana, Leetonia and Lisbon. Patchen said that Tate Burkhardt, building inspector for Civil Defense, is submitting a list of buildings to be inspected as sites for possible defense shelters. Inspection is expected to take approximately two weeks.

Patchen also stated that there is a possibility that Columbiana schools may be inspected for use as shelters. He said that D. W. Bailey, superintendent, had given permission to use the hallways as shelter points if it is found that they are accessible.

IN OTHER BUSINESS Kuhlman read a resolution submitted by the board of public affairs which would allow advertisements for bids for a 500-gallons per minute turbine pump to be installed on the south side of town which will increase water pressure in that area. Numerous complaints have been received from residents concerning low water pressure in the Middleton Rd. area. Council O'Hanlon pointed out.

voted favorably for the resolution. The second reading of a resolution which will increase water and sewer rates as of April 1, 1963, as a means of building a sewage disposal plant with the help of federal funds was accepted.

Coe

Atty. James L. McSweeney of Wellsville and Atty. Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, Republicans.

The board members alternated in leafing through the ballots and calling the names of the two candidates, while the tally was kept by two members of the board's staff.

The recount cost McCorkhill $115, as the board assessed the minimum charge of $5 per precinct allowed by state law. It could have charged him a maximum of $10 a precinct.

When filing the recount application May 13, McCorkhill was required to post a $230 deposit, equivalent to $10 for each of the 23 precincts. After deducting the $115 charge for the recount, the board refunded $115 to the applicant.

In any precinct where the contender's vote was changed by four per cent, there would have been no charge. However, none of the totals changed sufficiently to allow him a "free" precinct, the Middleton Rd. area. Council O'Hanlon pointed out.

Red China Confuses Facts With Fancies

EDITOR'S NOTE — The people of Red China often confuse the facts of today with the fancies of tomorrow. The result is an exaggerated claim of industrial progress. Yet, there have been gains. In this third article in a special series, a British author and poet who just took a travel agency tour of Red China tells how the people behind the bamboo curtain feel about what has been accomplished to date.

By RICHARD P. LISTER

PEKING (AP)—They call the Communist revolution in China the Liberation. The date is Oct. 1, 1949 when Mao Tze-Tung declared the founding of the People's Republic. As of that date there was not a single factory capable of making needles and pins. So, at least, the Chinese declare. Now, they say, a very high proportion of all consumer goods and industrial equipment used in China is home-made.

Whatever view may be taken of the means used by the Chinese to hoist themselves up—the harshness of the system and its ruthlessness toward many individual lives—the achievement seems to be real and impressive. To judge the measure of its success, it is only necessary to compare the present state of China, 14 years after revolution, with that of Russia in 1931.

It is all the more peculiar, then, that the Chinese do not always seem content to let real achievements speak for itself. They are so full of the glories of tomorrow that sometimes they confuse them with the facts of today.

There's a steelworks at Wuhan, the university town on the Yangtze. Begun in 1957, it now employs 40,000. It reminded me of the old fashioned plant where I worked, as a trainee graduate metallurgist in England, in 1937-39.

There is nothing discreditable to the Chinese in this. The Wuhan Iron and Steel Company may be 25 years behind the times but not so long ago industrial China was 2,000 years behind. It did not exist at all.

All the same, the Chinese are not content. The planned output, they told us, is three million tons of steel a year. Very good; when would this target be achieved? This was one question they could not or would not answer. When pressed, they estimated the present output of this particular plant at one and a half million tons. But that didn't matter; what counted was the three million of today the main output is pig.

There were six open hearth steel furnaces but only Nos. 1 and 5 were working. This was a rather low proportion of the steelmaking capacity. One answer for this soon became apparent. The heavy rolling mill, we were told, will produce rails, girders, plate, sheet and tubes.

They are proud of their rolling mill but—it is not yet built.

Today the main output is pig iron from the three blast furnaces and cast iron, largely in the form of parts for agricultural machinery.

Still, they do produce steel, bar, rod and strip. And since they started from scratch six years ago, this is a miracle in itself.

Our travelling group encountered this confusion between achievement and future reality all over China. At a children's palace in Shanghai—Where middle school children come after hours for the usual cultural and recreational activities with a strong ideological tinge, we asked if they were especially selected.

Of course not, we were told: all children can come. Yet among the hundreds there was not one who did not wear the red neck scarf of the Pioneers, the young Communist society.

There was no conscious deception here. The Chinese really wished to believe that the children's palace was open to all, just as they wished to believe that every Chinese citizen is free to choose his own work and to come and go as he pleases. As with some other peoples, what they tell themselves three times is true.

A Loaf of Bread

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Going into the supermarket for just a loaf of bread is like eating only one salted peanut—it simply can't be done.

There may be some purposeful individuals who can march straight to the bread counter, looking neither to the right nor left, but I am not one of them.

I have upon occasion managed to get to the bakery department without acquiring anything else along the route. But even when I reach that goal temptation assails me from every side.

If by putting my mental blinders on I can manage to separate a loaf of bread from its cupcake, pie, and other mouth watering neighbors, I still am not safe.

It's an old grocery-store formula that the shortest distance between the bread department and the checkout counter is through a maze of shelves packed with resolution shattering goodies.

To compound the brain-washing, big, bold signs announce the special values are to be had "today only." Reason tells me that those placards have been up for a week and are likely to remain for another. But there's always the chance I might never have another chance.

Not one to pass up a sale, I pick up two cans of okra from a display labeled in commanding

"Save!" In the excitement of getting such a good buy I forget that at home in the cabinet rest two identical cans of okra from the last sale. My family doesn't like okra but I like bargains.

In my slow progress toward the checkout booth I manage to pick up jelly, which looks as though it would taste good on the bread I originally came in for, and at least four or five other items I just can't resist.

My bread-buying technique is amateurish, though, compared with that of my husband.

Send him to the store for the staff of life and he comes back with two bags full of the most exotic food this side of paradise. He confines his shopping mainly to the gourmet department, a high-priced area I always pass with averted eyes and tightly closed pocketbook.

Fortunately, my husband does not go in for such specialties as fried ants and chocolate covered grasshoppers. But he does lay in a supply of such glamorous snacks as smoked turkey and ham cooked in wine sauce. I have to admit that they would make lovely sandwiches.

There's only one drawback to that, however. He always forgets the bread he went to buy.

Cincy Blanks Braves; Maloney Fans 16 Batters

Pirates Edge Houston 6-5

Dodgers Post 7th In Row, Trim Mets

By MIKE RTHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Jim Maloney signed with Cincinnati on April Fool's Day, but he's no joke to National League batters.

The 22-year-old right-hander, who admits "I babied my arm too much" in his early days with the Reds, tied the modern major league record of eight consecutive strikeouts and fanned a total of 16 in a 2-0 victory over Milwaukee Tuesday night.

The Dodgers got a five-hit pitching performance from Johnny Podres, defeated the New York Mets for their seventh straight victory 4-2 and remained one game behind league-leading San Francisco. The Ginals beat Philadelphia 3-2 as Billy O'Dell won his sixth without a loss.

St. Louis edged Chicago's Cubs 5-4 and Pittsburgh nipped Houston 6-5 in other games.

Maloney allowed only two hits in the 8 1/3 innings he worked. He started his string of eight straight strikeouts with Eddie Mathews in the first inning and kept whiffing Braves until Hank Aaron grounded out in the fourth inning. He had fanned 15 in the first seven innings, and had a good chance to tie or surpass the single game record of 18 held by Bob Feller and Koufax. He managed only one the rest of the way, however.

Shutout by Galen Cisco for five innings and trailing 2-0, the Dodgers put it out of reach with three runs in the sixth inning on a two-run double by Willie Davis and a single by Dick Tracewski knocked in what turned out to be the deciding run. Ron Fairly chipped in with two doubles and a single in support of Podres, now 3-3.

The Giants scored all their runs on homers with Jose Pagan's shot in the eighth inning snapping a 2-2 tie. Ed Bailey and Orlando Cepeda also connected for solo shots off Ray Culp, who went the distance for the Phillies and matched five-hitters with O'Dell. The Phillies had tied the game in the top of the tight on Don Demeter's run-scoring single.

Bill White drove in three runs for the Cardinals with a two-run homer and a single in the seventh inning that brought home what proved to be the decisive run in a two-run rally started by winning pitcher Curt Simmons, now 6-1. Curt Flood singled across the tie-breaker and eventually scored the clincher on White's hit. Larry Jackson, a former Card, took the loss.

Jim Pagliaroni hit a three-run homer off Jim Ubricht. Colts reliever making his third appearance since recovering from cancer surgery, and put the Pirates ahead to stay 5-4 in the sixth inning. Bill Virdon's infield single in the ninth, however, drove in the deciding run.

Davalillo, Adcock Look Impressive

CLEVELAND (AP) — Big Joe Adcock and little Vic Davalillo—who are the two size extremes of the Cleveland Indians—are playing the best ball these days.

Adcock, the 35-year-old first baseman who played 13 seasons in the National League for Cincinnati and Milwaukee, is off on one of his patented hot hitting spells. He's collected seven hits in his last 10 trips and has raised his average from .217 to .286.

Davalillo, the 23-year-old rookie centerfielder, has been the Tribe's most consistent hitter and current, by batting .284. He has hit in each of the last five games—eight hits for 22 at bats—and his fielding range becomes more impressive each day.

Adcock is 6-foot-4 and weighs 220 pounds. Davalillo is 5-7 and weighs 150 pounds.

Tuesday night's game against Los Angeles was postponed by the Indians at 4 p.m. during a rain shower. The sun came out an hour later and the night was clear but cool.

Dick Donovan (2-2) will pitch tonight against the Angels' Dan Osinski (2-1).

Salem Golfers Nip Leetonia Bears 5-4

Mike Rians took medalist honors with a 38 as Salem edged Leetonia 5-4 in a dual golf match at the Quakers' home course Monday.

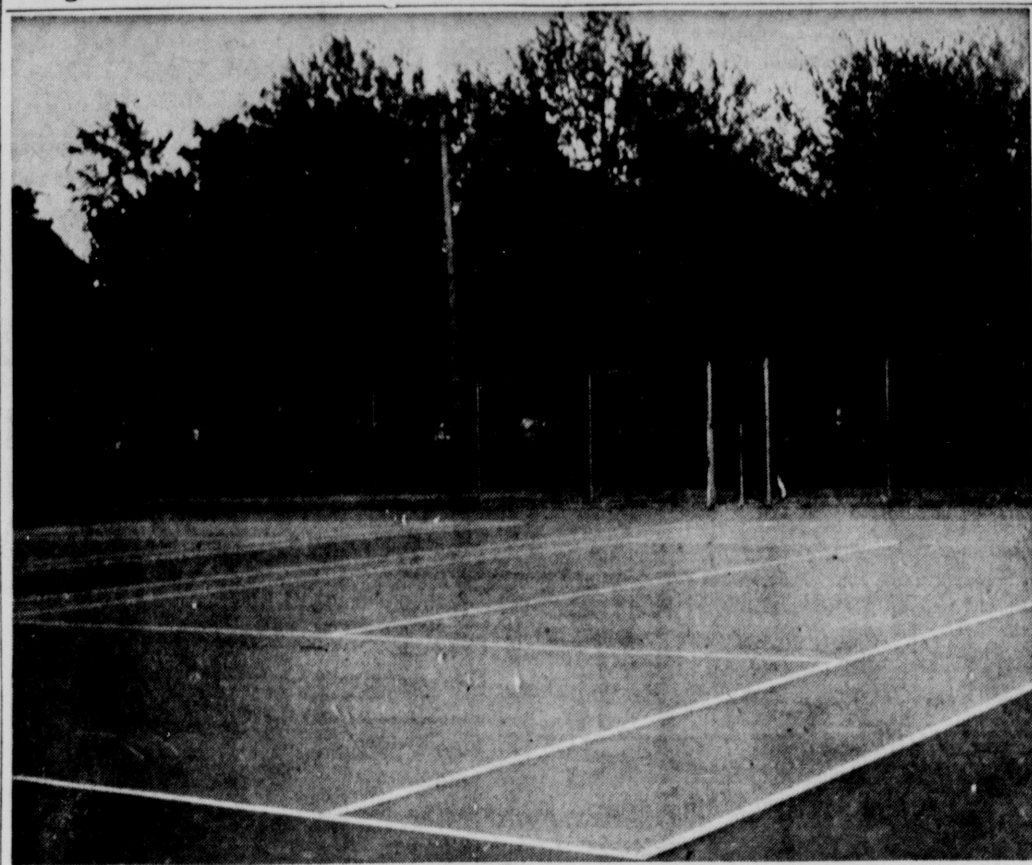

Jim Miller and Ron Eichler carded 45s and Dick Stark had a 51 for Salem.

Frank Guerrier led the Bears with a 43. He was followed by Dennis Holt, 44; Pete Otto, 50; and Jim Hartley, 51.

- (1) Tennis shoes only will be worn on the courts. No basketball shoes, street shoes or other type footwear will be permitted.
- (2) The courts will be used for tennis only. No skates, bicycles, scooters, cars or other vehicles are allowed. No games or other activities shall be played in the fenced-in enclosure.
- (3) When others are waiting to use the courts, players shall play doubles only and limit their playing time to two sets.

"THE RULES were drawn up in accordance with Salem City ordinances," Tomlinson said, "to protect the courts, built at a cost of $17,000, and to give residents a more equal chance of using the playing site."

The courts were constructed by the Clinton Asphalt Paving Co. of Wilmington with the contract calling for the excavation for the three Laykold courts, subbase, penetration macadam base, wood curbing around three sides, a leveling course, resurfacer course, wear-coat course, color-coat course, lines, fencing, gates and net post installation. The color coats are of green in the playing area, red in the out-of-bounds area with lines of white.

THE COURTS ARE the regulation size of 36 feet in width by 78 feet in length with 21 additional feet from the base line to the fence. The overall surface of the courts is 122x158 feet with 12 feet between courts.

Two four-foot gates, one at the north end and one at the south, will permit access to the courts. A 10-foot service gate will be used by caretakers.

The pavement extends 12 inches beyond the chain link fence on all sides. Back stops are 10 feet high at both ends of the courts with the higher fence extending around the corners to prevent stray balls from escaping over these routes.

Tomlinson anticipates little, if any difficulty with drainage and related problems such as cracking pavement because due attention has been given to water movement from beneath the courses.

The courts have an eight-inch fall from north to south to move water beneath the hardtop. "We expect very little rain to set on the courts and they should be dry within an hour after a shower," Tomlinson declares.

THE PAVEMENT HAS BEEN submitted to a curing-out period to allow the materials to ripen and set well.

Completion of the court hinges on the arrival and installation of the net posts for which sleeves were installed by the construction company.

The type of construction coating gives the surface resiliency, reducing the shock to the tennis player's feet, but at the same time is subject to damage by shoes not intended for tennis courts.

THE THREE COURTS replace three old, clay courts which were expanded to permit the recommended size and spacing the present courts provide.

Tomlinson said tennis classes will be offered in the summer-time with further plans to be announced later.

"These courts belong to the people of Salem, and it is up to the people to keep them in excellent condition," the director added.

Beede Talks At Buckeye Loop Banquet At Beaver Local High

By CAROL CROFT
Seventy top athletes, coaches, school officials and guests attended the first annual sports banquet of the Buckeye Border Conference Tuesday at Beaver Local High School.

Dwight (Dike) Beede, head football coach at Youngstown University since 1938, spoke about the constantly changing rules in football, maintaining that 75 percent of the rules have been made to prevent injuries in the game.

His discussion of substitution rules centered upon the new regulations that only two players may be substituted, and that they may enter while the clock is running or stopped. A substitution cannot be made before fourth down or before the team gains the ball.

IN BEEDE'S OPINION, the rule was made to take specialization which has resulted from the two-plateau system out of football. He stated that the idea of substitutions originated in the early 1920's with Knute Rockne and has worked its way, with variations, throughout football until the present.

Beede asserted that professional football has given collegiate and high school football many wrong ideas. He stressed the idea that the game must benefit the player or else it is of no value. In contrast, he continued, "pro football is for entertainment first with business value second but it has no obligation to the players."

Noting the importance of teamwork on and off the field, he listed three points of good football as: being in shape, having he will to win and executing the team will.

LEE KIRKLAND, principal of Beaver Local introduced the speaker and acted as master of ceremonies. He also presented the Buckeye Border Conference track championship trophy to Coach Jack Tarr of Toronto.

Discussion of the entrance of Southern Local School into the league was postponed until the Aug. 15 meeting of the board of

Prospect Wins Grade School Track Crown

Rick Jones took three first places to spark Prospect grade school to the Mickey McGuire League track and field championship at Reilly Stadium Tuesday.

Prospect nipped last year's winner, Fourth Street, 38-36. Only one record was set in the meet as Milligan of McKinley cleared 4 feet, 6 inches in the high jump.

Jones started the new champs on their way to victory by taking the 50-yard dash in 6.8 seconds. He also took the shot put and broad jump for a total of 18 points.

Fourth street captured both relays. The only other first place was won by John Lutsch of McKinley in the 50-yard low hurdles.

Other teams scoring in the meet included McKinley, 23 1/2; St. Paul's, 9 1/2; and Reilly, 5. Buckeye failed to score any points.

Night Fishing At Salem Reservoir OK'd By Council

Sundown will not bring a cessation of fishing at the city reservoir henceforth.

An ordinance introduced by Councilman Harold J. Astry, and unanimously passed Tuesday night by City Council amended a previous ordinance which had imposed a fishing time limit "from sunrise to sunset." Night fishing is now possible.

Fishing hours may be controlled by the Utilities Commission.

Another ordinance introduced by Councilman Astry and unanimously agreed to by other city legislators Tuesday pertains to the stocking of fish at the city reservoir. This ordinance authorizes the director of public utilities to advertise for bids and enter into contract for the purchase of fish to stock the municipal lake this year.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Fishing is private business with a lot of people, like for instance, ex-President Herbert Hoover wanted no federal officers, news photographers or any person interfering with him when he went fishing. There's something about this form of relaxation that does a man good, physically and spiritually.

This is something that comes along with age. Not that you have to grow old before you appreciate it but you can begin in childhood days and become a sort of obsession and a form of recreation that does not appreciate any interference.

So, shall we say, that youngster of yours wants to go fishing. He's seen movies of people catching fish and has decided he wants to catch fish too. There's a hidden spirit of the pioneers born in him that urges him to seek outdoor recreation even if he has known only city life from the day he was born.

IF EVER YOUR boy, or girl, for that matter, says to you, "Dad, take me fishing!" The thing to do is arrange a fishing trip. Keep in mind that innocent little dairy store where all the 'teen-agers hang out can become a melting pot for delinquents, something you will never find along a lake shore or creek bank when youngsters go fishing.

There's no better time than right now to take a youngster fishing. Lake Guilford is loaded with bluegills, not all of them in the 8 or 9 inch class, but fish of all sizes with big appetites and to catch them means no more than a fishing pole with hook and line and a few garden worms or maggots to use as bait. I think maggots, the kind you get from a bait store boxed in corn meal, are the preferred bait as they are not actually as messy as garden worms.

Take the youngsters fishing and while you are at it how about asking the neighbor kid along too? Maybe his dad's work shift prevents him from taking his youngster fishing so your boy and his

Leetonia Names Carl Kokor to Football, Track Posts

Maple Heights Man Is Chosen

Signs 3-Year Pact With School Board

Carl G. Kokor, 31, of Maple Heights, who has been an assistant at three different schools since 1957, has been named to a three-year contract to serve as Leetonia High School head football and track coach.

Superintendent of Leetonia Schools Victor Wood made the announcement of the appointment Tuesday afternoon and said "Kokor plans to move here as soon as possible."

The Bears' new mentor was picked from a field of 50 applicants. He succeeds Ike Farrah who accepted a similar position at Marlinton High School recently.

CARL G. KOKOR

Kokor plans to visit with school officials, team members, coaching staff and look around for a house in Leetonia Saturday.

HE IS A GRADUATE OF Niles High School and Bowling Green University. He majored in comprehensive science and minored in health and physical education at college.

At Niles, he was a member of the varsity football, basketball, track and baseball teams. He played three years of baseball at BG.

His first assignment was at North Royalton, a Cleveland suburb, as assistant football and head baseball coach. Kokor went from there to Mansfield in 1959, and remained at that school for three years.

He was assistant football and baseball coach for the Tygers, and in 1961 he guided the Mansfield junior varsity gridiron machine to an undefeated season.

At Maple Heights, Kokor was head scout and had a major part in planning the football and track programs. He was recently appointed grade school summer touch football program director for that city.

AT LEETONIA, 14 lettermen and 34 sophomores will be on hand when the season gets underway Aug. 20. The Bears last year compiled a 5-4-1 season.

Kokor will teach general science and physical education in the school system.

In his first year at North Royalton, Kokor was faced with a rebuilding job. The second season he was there, the school captured the County Conference championship.

At Mansfield, he worked under exceptional head coaches. In 1961 he assisted James Dougherty who guided the Tygers to an 8-2-1 record.

Kokor is termed a dedicated man and oftentimes while at the three previous schools he volunteered and took part in all phases of the football and track programs, often above and beyond his own duties.

Assisting the Leetonia coach in the fall will be Len Batcha and Paul Frank, both mentors for the Bears the past year.

Major League Stars

PITCHING — Jim Maloney, Red struck out record-tying eight consecutive batters, fanned total of 16 and allowed only two hits for 8 1-3 innings before needing relief help in 2-0 victory over Milwaukee.

BATTING—Mickey Mantle, Yankees, hit his seventh and eighth homers, driving in five runs to power New York to 7-4 triumph over Kansas City.

3 Track Records Have Already Been Bettered

Several Marks Jeopardized In State Meet This Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 56th annual state high school track and field championships this weekend in Columbus will see one of the classiest fields ever assembled, and if form prevails it could be a big day for records.

Three state meet standards already have been bettered this season—in the pole vault, high hurdles and 880-yard relay — and mark in four other events also could go. Those threatened are the 880 and mile runs, mile relay and high jump.

Five vaulters who have cleared 13 feet will be after the state meet mark of 13 feet, 9 1/2 inches set by John Linta of Mansfield 24 years ago, and one of the challengers will be Linta's son, John Jr., of Mansfield Senior High.

Linta, a junior, has cleared 13-8, second best in Ohio. The leader is Marion Harding's Jim Showers with 13-10.

Clinton Jones of Cleveland Cathedral Latin has bettered the state meet 120-yard high hurdles mark of 14.4 with a 14.1 clocking. His 19.2 is also the best low hurdles time this season and just three-tenths of a second off the state meet record of 18.9.

Kettering Fairmont's half-mile relay team bettered the state meet mark in that even by one-tenth of a second with 1:28.7 in its district meet.

New challenger for the state mile run record of 4:21.7 is Jim Watt of Cleveland Brush who ran 4:22.7, tops in Ohio this season.

In the race for the team title, Dayton Dunbar and Cleveland Glenview are expected to fight it out for the Class AA crown. Sandusky, with sprinter Paul Garrett as its key, will be a threat.

Cleveland East Tech, 13 times state champion, will make a strong run for the championship. Cleveland East High, with the second fastest mile relay time of 3:22.3 and five individuals, has a chance.

Mantle's 2 Home Runs Power Yankees To 7-4 Win Over A's

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's bound to be a bonanza season in the American League for Baltimore and New York—as long as the Orioles keep cashing in against left-handed pitchers and the Yankees keep getting ruih against their Kansas City cousins.

The Orioles trimmed the Detroit Tigers 4-2 Tuesday night, with letty Mickey Lolich the pitching victim in his first big league start. They've compiled an amazing 11-1 record against left-handers so far this year and 13 straight southpaws have failed to finish against them.

Mickey Mantle drove across five runs with a pair of well-tagged homers, powering the Yanks over Kansas City 7-4. That made the bombers 3-for-3 against the A's, a club they have manhandled outrageously since it moved west from Philadelphia eight years ago.

The Orioles' victory was their seventh in the last eight games and kept them tied for the league lead with the Chicago White Sox, who outlasted the Washington Senators 4-3.

In the night's other AL game, Minnesota's surging Twins poured across seven runs in the third inning and whacked Boston 8-2. The Red Sox and the A's dropped two games behind the league's co-leaders and a game behind the Yanks, who have also won seven of their last eight. The Los Angeles Angels-Indians match at Cleveland was rained out.

In the National League—right-hander Jim Maloney equaled the modern major league record of eight consecutive strikeouts in Cincinnati's 2-0 shutout of Milwaukee, San Francisco edged Philadelphia 3-2, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the New York Mets 4-2, Pittsburgh nipped Houston 5-4 and St. Louis trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-4.

The White Sox built up a 4-0 lead at Washington with the help of a three-run sixth inning, but barely outlasted the Senators.

Held to four hits and one run through eight innings, the Senators made it a squeaker against reliever Hoyt Wilhelm when Don Lock homered with one on in the ninth and Ken Retzer singled—all with none out. But the knuckleballer turned away the next three men, saving the victory for John Buzhardt, now 4-1.

The Twins collected their seven runs in the third against Red Sox rookie star Dave Morehead and reliever Jack Lamabe on Vic Power's triple, a double by Bob Allison, four singles, two walks and a wild pitch. It paved the way for Minnesota's fifth victory in the last six games and made it a breeze for right-hander Jim Perry. He evened his record at 2-2 with an eight-hitter.

Earl Battey socked a homer for the Twins, while back-to-back homers by Lu Clinton and Dick Stuart in the fourth accounted for the Boston runs.

Strawberry Bombe Is Tasty

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Now is the time of year for "showers" for the bride. This Strawberry Bombe will delight your other guests as well as the bride-to-be.

(Serves 8)
1 cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked), ½ cup firmly-packed brown sugar, 1-3 cup melted butter or margarine.

Bombe
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin, ½ cup cold water, 3 cups sliced fresh strawberries, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup marshmallow creme, few drops red food coloring, ½ pint whipping cream.

Heat oven to 350 degrees. For base, toast oats in shallow baking pan in oven for 10 minutes. Add brown sugar and butter; mix thoroughly.

Press mixture onto bottom and half way down sides of a 1½-qt. mold.

For bombe, soften gelatin in cold water. Combine 1 cup strawberries, sugar and marshmallow creme in saucepan; cook over low heat (may use double boiler) until well blended. Add gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Add remaining strawberries and red food coloring. Cool until mixture mounds, stirring occasionally. Whip cream until stiff; fold into strawberry mixture. Pour over crunch base in mold. Chill several hours or until set.

To serve, dip outside of mold into warm water. Invert mold onto serving plate. Garnish with strawberries.

Cheesy Macaroni Peppers Are New Dish

Stuffed peppers have long been a favorite for family dining. And, they're naturals for new idea dishes.

For instance, creamy canned macaroni with cheese sauce combined with chopped hard cooked eggs and canned French fried onions is a tasty flavor blend with the peppers. The gold and green colors lend an especially attractive note to the table, too.

For a salad mate choose colorful red spiced apple rings and grapefruit sections, both conveniently canned, nestled in beds of crisp greens. Pass a sweet French dressing.

Cheesy Macaroni Peppers

6 medium size green peppers, 2 cans (1 lb. each) macaroni with cheese sauce, 1 can (3½ oz.) French fried onions, 3 hard cooked eggs, 1 cup grated cheddar cheese, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.

Slice tops from peppers and remove seeds and inner membrane. Cook peppers in boiling salted water 5 minutes; drain. Mix macaroni with cheese sauce, French fried onions, chopped eggs and remaining ingredients. Fill peppers with the mixture. Set peppers in a baking dish. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) about 25 minutes until peppers are done and filling is hot. Six servings.

Cooking Is Fun...

PINEAPPLE PIE

1 cup sugar, 1-3 cup flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups water, 1 can (8½ ounces) crushed pineapple, 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 1-3 cups (about) flaked coconut, 1 baked 9-inch pie crust, 2 egg whites, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

In a heavy saucepan stir together thoroughly ½ cup of the sugar, flour, and salt. Stir in, in the following order, and mixing thoroughly after each addition, water, undrained pineapple, and yolks.

Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture just begins to boil — about 6 minutes. Blend in butter and lemon juice. Cool. Stir 1 cup coconut into cooled filling; pour into cooled pie crust. Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually beat in remaining ½ cup sugar and ¼ teaspoon salt.

Continue beating until meringue will hold stiff peaks. Stir in vanilla and remaining coconut. Spread over filling, sealing to crust.

Place under the broiler until meringue is lightly browned. Makes six to eight servings.

ASPARAGUS AND EGG SALAD

1 pound asparagus (cooked), French dressing, Salad greens, 4 hard-cooked eggs, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 teaspoons prepared yellow mustard, Sliced cucumber and tomato.

Marinate the asparagus in French dressing and chill; drain and arrange on salad greens. Halve the eggs; remove yolks and mash with mayonnaise and mustard—taste and add salt if necessary.

Spoon yolk mixture back into egg white cavities. Add eggs to salad plates with cucumber and tomato. Makes 4 servings. The dressing in which the asparagus are marinated may be spooned over the salad greens.

ASPARAGUS ROLLUPS

12 slices white bread
Soft butter
1 pound soft cheddar cheese
1 can or jar (7 ounces) pimientos, (drained and chopped)
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
24 cooked fresh asparagus stalks.

Cut crusts from bread and use a rolling pin to flatten and spread slices. Arrange bread in a jelly roll pan or on heavy foil and spread one side generously with butter. Beat together the cheese, pimientos and mustard. Turn bread and spread unbuttered side with the cheese mixture.

Place two asparagus spears in the center of each bread slice, fold over edges to center to make a roll. If necessary, secure roll-ups with toothpicks.

Bake the rollups, in the jelly-roll pan or on foil in a hot (25 degrees) oven until bread crisps and browns slightly — about 10 minutes. Cover tips of asparagus not covered by bread with foil before baking. Serve hot.

If you like, you may heat any remaining cheese spread with a little light cream, over hot water or over very low heat, and serve over the rollups. Makes 6 servings.

Note: If you wish to broil the rollups, arrange them on a broiler rack set over the broiler pan; cover asparagus tips showing with foil. Boil until toasted. Turn rollups; cover tips again and broil to toast under sides of bread.

Pink Desserts Have Romantic Theme

With announcement parties in season and suppers to honor the future bride and groom, romance is in the air, which, of course, means, that pink desserts are now in demand. You'll find these two very easy to make. They actually start with your baker.

CHERRY TORTE

(Serves 12-16)
1 (1½ lb.) can frozen red cherries, ¼ cup confectioners' sugar, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons Cointreau, 1 (10-inch) baker's angel food cake, 1 cup heavy cream, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind. Thaw cherries, drain off juice and save. Dissolve ¾ cup sugar and cornstarch in juice. Stirring constantly, heat until juice is thickened and just begins to boil. Stir in Cointreau and cherries; chill. Slice cake into 3 equal-sized layers. Spread cherry filling between cake layers. Whip cream until it will hold its shape, then add 2 tablespoons sugar and continue whipping until thick. Spread whipped cream over top and sides of torte. Sprinkle orange rind over top of cake.

RASPBERRY MERINGUE

STACKS (6 stacks)
12 slices enriched bread, 2 egg yolks, unbeaten, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, 1 cup milk, 2 egg whites, 4 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon almond extract, 1 quart fresh raspberries.

Trim crusts from bread; cut each slice in half. Combine egg yolks, salt, sugar and almond extract; beat slightly. Add milk. Dip slices of bread in mixture and place on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a 325-degree oven for thirty minutes.

Remove from oven. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat until mixture stands in peaks. Add almond extract.

Top each slice of bread with meringue and return to oven for fifteen minutes, or until brown.

For individual servings, cover 6 fresh fruit. Top each with another slice of meringue toast with er slice and garnish with more crushed raspberries, or other fruit.

MAKE-BELIEVE HAIRDOS

There's a conspiracy going on in the coiffure world. False hairpieces are being used as "go betweens" to disguise daytime casualness, transforming even saucy "young boy" brief cuts into majestic, formal styles of towering tresses. But here's one maverick. The sleek "little nothing" hairdos still have a loyal following that upholds the understated chic of head-hugging hairdos, very Chanel-ish in impact.

Take time now for your new summer "do." Warm weather calls for special hair arrangements with comfort and convenience in mind.

Meat Prices Remain At Lower Level

Meat prices will remain quite steady at present price levels for this spring period, the consumer service of the county farm extension office points out.

With farm prices of both beef and pork animals down compared with last fall and winter, both of these meats will offer poultry some real price competition at his time. With egg prices also below last winter's level, home-makers have a wide range of choices at rather economical price levels.

Florida is currently a virtual horn of plenty, pouring out fresh vegetables of many varieties by the carload. Examples of these southern grown crops now being produced in volume are corn, snap beans, cabbage, celery, cucumbers, peppers, radishes and squash.

MOST CROPS IN OHIO are still in the planting stage. There are a few exceptions. Asparagus and rhubarb are two. Another is greenhouse-grown tomatoes. We're right in the midst of the season for this crop. The quality is excellent on this year's production. This season will last from now through June.

The grapefruit season is approaching an end and at higher prices. Orange concentrate (frozen) prices again advanced recently as many major brands are being allocated to retailers. It looks like a price situation that we will have to like for a while.

Fresh pineapples are available the year around, but they are most abundant in April and May. The main sources are Mexico, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii. Prices are about the same as one year ago.

Bananas are steady in price with about the same amount to be marketed as last year during May.

PEACHES WILL START to market from Georgia the latter part of this month. Southern growing areas report a good crop for June and July. Ohio will produce virtually no peaches this year because of cold weather damage.

Strawberries are at a peak during May and June. Southern grown fruit is now on the market. We can expect local strawberries shortly after June first.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: For months now I have been studying the care, cures and pitfalls of growing good grass. Topic today for those of you who must fertilize soon (and use commercial powdered-type fertilizers but do not have a spreader) is "How to spread it evenly without splashing it" . . .

I have tested five lawns (bermuda and wide blade grass) and watched people apply fertilizer by hand. One poor fellow threw the fertilizer, another one took his wife's measuring cup and spread it that way. But these two fellows had green-blue grass in streaks and these streaks were growing twice a fast two weeks later, some places got too much and the grass burned . . . which made their yard look even worse!

If you have no commercial spreader, may I suggest that you try my method?

Take an old coffee can and punch lots of holes in the bottom of it with your ice pick!

FILL THE CAN. with the powdered-type fertilizer and hold the can waist high. This will allow for better distribution of the fertilizer so that it will not burn some places. By the time it lands on the grass the breeze will blow it more evenly! Walk up-and-down your yard and just gently shake the can.

It's a good idea to walk away from the wind when spreading it so the powder doesn't get over your clothes.

Another tip is to take a piece of string such as comes off your laundry etc., and lay it across the yard and walk along the string. When you finish that "row" then move the string over a few feet.

But the best way I found for perfect spreading was to mix a little flour from your wife's pantry with the fertilizer! Only about two or three heaping table-spoons of each coffee can of powdered-type fertilizer and stir it with her kitchen spoon! This way you can actually see just where the fertilizer is blowing and falling!

After the yard is splattered and dusted if you have missed a spot it's easily seen because of the flour dust and there is no trick to going back and filling in a missed spot so all your grass will give forth at once! Isn't that tricky?

(For those who use lime — because of certain conditions in the soil — this may be mixed with the fertilizer and suffice for the flour.)

ANYWAY, this is our solution to the spreading of fertilizer and not burning grass. And always remember to read caution directions.

Are you all aware that you have to water heavily after spreading this stuff? Keeps it from burning the grass.

Let's get that grass green and make our neighbor envious . . . then let him ask you how you did it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I rub dry cornstarch on the oil spots on our wallpaper. Leave this on for a while, then rub it off with a piece of terry cloth. Apply several times until the stain disappears. It works.

A FRIEND.

DEAR HELOISE: For those of you who have small kiddies and serve ice cream cones in your home and they go drip, drip, drip. . .

Instead of getting baby's hands all sticky when the bottom of the ice cream cones finally mashes a piece of foil not only allows the baby's to keep hand clean but as the ice cream runs down the side, Heloise, it catches the drips.

It's also good to carry a piece of foil in your purse so that when you go to a drive-in or the drug store, you can wrap it around the cone.

LOUISE JASON

DEAR HELOISE: I caramelize sugar by heating a large heavy skillet on my stove until it gets hot. I then put in sugar, cover the skillet with a lid and turn the heat off. The sugar will melt without tasting burnt.

I also use an ice pick to test meat and vegetables to see if they are done. Only one hole! The ice pick goes down deep into the food and does not tear the food.

CLARA JONES.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who wear white shoes to work . . . often the soil from the trouser cuffs will come off on the white of the shoes.

I suggest that these gentlemen carry a piece of dime store chalk in their pocket and if they have an important engagement and find a spot on their shoes all they have to do is reach down and cover up the dirty mark with the small piece of chalk.

This has worked for me for 20 years and after reading your column the last few months I passed on. Everybody in our office uses this.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Last year I gave the watermelons to the Boosters at the Leetonia homecoming. They put on this watermelon eating contest. I got such a kick out of seeing these children eat the melons so I am going to furnish them again this year. We had a lot of watermelon eaters. This year we need more watermelon eaters because I am going to have more melons on hand for the event. Business is better so I can afford to give more away.

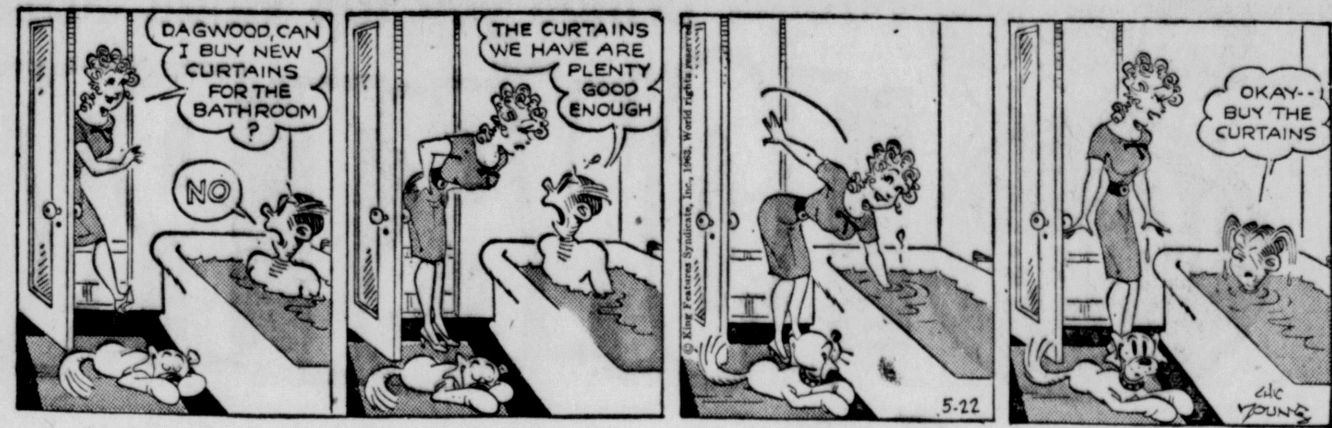

I find the greatest joy in living is in giving but you can't give something you don't have.
